RUMORS ARE RIFE

Various Reports of What the Miners Will Do.

JUDGE HALL STANDS FIRM

The Miners are Still Disposed to Be Defiant, and Won't Obey Orders.

TOMORROW'S RESULTS AWAITED

Madisonville, Nov. 22.—The air is rife with rumors about the probable outcome of the mining troubles. One report is that the nation miners from all over the country are mobilizing at Kertonville camp to resist the execution of Judge Hall's dispersion order. President Wood says he does not think the strikers will obey the order of Judge Hall. Judge Hall says his order must be obeyed by daybreak tomorrow, or the miners will be compelled to obey.

It is reported at noon that the miners are secretly preparing to move tonight to a point near Hatersville, Muhlenberg county.

Tomorrow's results will be eagerly watched for. At Oak Hill mine, about three miles from the camp, the guards employed to protect the mine property have built a regular fort. The walls of the fort are formed by two great saw-logs with a superstructure of cross-ties that could withstand a very formidable attack. Within the fort are two tents and above it floats the stars and stripes. From the road, 100 yards distant, the guards may be seen pacing up and down with guns upon their shoulders, seemingly ready for any emergency. This mine has been fired upon several times since the trouble with the union men began.

The Nashville American correspondent says:

"In the case of resistance on the part of the miners Gen. Murray has two companies of militia on hand. It is probable that Battery A, of Louisville and other troops will be called. If the coal operators are called upon they can furnish 500 or 400 good, tried men. Another story is that the miners will move to a point across Paducah river, in Muhlenberg county, just over the Hopkins county line, where they will establish camp."

Yesterday Gen. Murray and Judge Hall held a long conference, at which their plans were discussed.

"President Wood, at Central City, talked over the telephone with a correspondent at Madisonville. He said he had been in conference with the officials of the United Mine Workers concerning a line of policy and that a decision would be reached today. He expressed the opinion that the men would not be disbanded. He says he does not look for trouble with the militia and that he considers the general situation very satisfactory. There are at present 180 men in camp, President Wood stated, and the force could be raised to 1,500 within twelve hours."

This afternoon the reports from the scene indicate a resolute defiance on part of the miners. President Wood, of the district mine workers, said after a conference with attorneys this afternoon that he didn't believe the miners' camp would move a step. He left Central City, where he was at the time of the conference, for Nortonville, to himself command the camp, and says the force is large enough, and he reinforcements have been ordered.

Greenup, Ky., Nov. 22.—The little town of Springville, this county, is all a-tremor over the sad ending of the life of one of the belles of the village, Miss Clara Holman. Squire James P. A SAD DEATH.

Mr. Edwin Weil Dies After a Three Weeks Illness.

Was One of Paducah's Most Popular Young Business Men.

Mr. Edwin B. Weil, a member of the firm of H. Weil and Sons, and one of Paducah's best known and most popular young men, died at 8 o'clock last evening at his home at Sixth and Broadway from typhoid fever, after a three weeks' illness.

Mr. Weil was out on a regular trip when he became ill at Memphis, and thinking it was nothing serious, proceeded to Birmingham, Ala., where he became worse, and finally had to return home. It was then learned that he was suffering from a malignant attack of typhoid. A week ago he became unconscious, and his condition had since been very critical.

The deceased was 25 years old, and next to the youngest son of the late Mr. Henry Weil, who died not long ago. He leaves a mother and three brothers, Messrs. Leo, Adolph and Jesse Weil, the latter now attending Harvard college, but who arrived today to attend the funeral.

Mr. Weil was a young man of great promise, and one of the best business men in Paducah. He had for the past several years been on the road for the firm and was a fine salesman. Socially he was liked by all, and no young man in Paducah has more friends than he had.

He was a member of Paducah lodge, B. P. O. E., and of the Travelers' Protective Association, and was a good worker in both orders.

The funeral took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence, burial at the Jewish cemetery. The Rite officiated at the burial.

L. Vico, and others, Oscar Kahn, attorney of the plaintiff was allowed $100 for his services and F. G. Randolph was allowed $35 for his services as administrator.

CASE SETTLED.

Agreed Verdict In the Blythe Damage Suit Yesterday.

Tyndall Suit Compromised Also—Federal Court Ended Last Evening.

Federal court closed last evening and Judge Evans and other court officers returned to Louisville on the midnight train.

The jury in the $50,000 damage suit of Mrs. John T. Blythe of Fulton, against the Illinois Central, was unable to agree, and so reported to Judge Evans, who ordered them to return to their room and try it again. They were still unable to agree, it being understood that three of them were in favor of a verdict for the railroad company, and the attorneys then met and agreed on a verdict for $3,000, which the jury signed. The suit of Mrs. Tyndall against the same road for a like amount for the death of her husband, was also compromised for $3,000.

The evidence of the one hundred and more witnesses was very conflicting. The railroad employees and witnesses all swore that the engineer on the fast train which killed the two men blew the whistle and rang the bell before reaching the crossing, but the witnesses on the other side all swore that he did not and that the deceased were watching a switch engine near the crossing, waiting for a chance to pass, when the fast train came along and killed them.

The speech of Hon. John K. Hendrick for the plaintiffs, was a masterful effort, and was highly complimented by Judge Evans, who said it was one of the most eloquent and logical he ever heard.

IOWA THERE

Marines May Be Landed to Protect Transit.

THE BRITISH CRUISER, TOO

The Number of Casualties at Colon are More Numerous Than Expected.

THE WORK OF FORTIFYING

Colon, Nov. 22.—The government at Panama is still busy erecting breastworks in the vicinity of the railroad property, in the direction of which the Liberal attack is expected. It is not improbable that the Iowas will shortly land a force to protect transit. The postoffice, prefecture, all the other government offices and nearly all the commercial houses at Colon were closed yesterday.

Col. Barrera, commander of the liberal forces, asserts that he has notified the district representative of the department of the interior and other former officials of the government that he has appointed a commission to take over their offices formally today. Sgtnr. Espinosa, a prominent lawyer, and counsel for the Panama railroad, is a member of the commission. The feeling of the community cannot be regarded as antagonistic to Liberalism. The existing conditions have created no panic, but it is recognized that the fact that the Liberals hold Colon while the Conservatives are in possession of Panama creates a state of affairs which can not possibly continue.

Col. Barrera admits that the government troops here numbered a little less than 120 men. It was at first reported that twelve or more men had been killed and about thirty wounded, but the bodies of more dead men have since been discovered. The inspector of customs escaped on an outgoing steamer. Several prisoners who were captured by the Liberals have since been released.

Gen. Zaldana commands 200 Liberal troops at the station railroad station, about six miles from Colon. The Liberals claim to be in possession of all the railroad stations between Colon and Las Casca, which is nearer to Panama than to Colon.

Both sides need Remingtons and Mausers. The former caused the higher death rate. A Liberal lieutenant who was shot in the neck with a Mauser bullet is reported to be doing well.

No immediate attack on Panama is contemplated. Col. Barrera is waiting the arrival at Colon of the Liberals chief, Domingo Diaz, who is expected in a day or two. When Diaz reaches this city definite plans will be formed.

Gen. Barria commands the government forces at Panama. Gen. Patino, the original commander of the Liberal forces which captured Colon, is said to have intended to capture the Colombian gunboat Gen. Plazas in person, and source say that the general was drowned in an effort to reach her in a boat which capsized.

STRUCK COAL.

KNOXVILLE SINKS.

She Went Down in the Harbor at Yazoo City, Miss.

Mr. H. C. Warden, of Paducah, Was Chief Engineer—No One Lost.

THE FRITZ SINKS.

She Struck the Same Snag That the Hartwig Hit.

Went Down Near Memphis—The Hartwig Can Be Saved.

BIGGEST EVER KNOWN.

The steamship City of Knoxville, late of the Paducah and Oolconda trade, sank yesterday in the harbor at Yazoo City, Miss., but no one was lost. The information came in the form of a telegram to Mr. Howard Warden, whose father, Mr. H. C. Warden, of Paducah, left on the boat as chief engineer. No particulars are given in the dispatch. The boat was run to the Oolconda trade after the Golconda was lost, by Captain McCarty and wife, and was sold to the plantation owners at Yazoo City for about $1,000. She had not long been in the Yazoo trade, and was a good boat.

LIVERPOOL BANKER SQUANDERS A MILLION AND SKIPS.

Liverpool, Nov. 22.—The trusted bookkeeper of the bank of Liverpool has squandered nearly a million dollars of bank funds in gambling and disappeared. It is the biggest defalcation ever known here. Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 22.—The towboat Fritz, sent out from Cairo to raise the wreck of the Fred Hartwig, this morning struck the same snag that sank the Hartwig, and also sank. There was no loss of life. Captain McDonald, of the steamer Sun, passed the wrecked Fred Hartwig yesterday as he came down on his regular run. He stated that the vessel was lying straight and appeared to be in about ten feet of water. Captain McDonald thinks that the boat can be raised and saved without much loss, comparatively speaking. He said that the size of the boat made by the log upon which she struck could not be ascertained, but that her crew was on the boat doing what could be done under the circumstances, and that the Hartwig would probably be floated in a short while. She is lying near the mouth of the Old Hatchie, where she ran aground of the disastrous log which is the root of all of her present evil. The Fritz was a good boat, and can probably also be raised. Does your mirror reflect clear, white teeth and sound gums? If not, then use Jennelle's tooth powder.

LAID TO REST.

Remains of the Late Capt. Jack

Lawson Arrived Today.

Burial Under the Auspices of the

Masons—More of His

History.

The remains of the late Captain

Jack Lawson reached the city this forenoon and were taken to the home of Mr. W. G. McFadden, on South

Third street. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock this afternoon, services

by the Rev. W. E. Cave, burial at St. Kenton.

Yesterday's Globe Democrat says

of the deceased: "John Lawson cast

his first vote for an American president—Andrew Jackson—and was always proud of his allegiance to Old

Hickory. He lived in Baltimore

three years, when he removed to Philadelphia where he superintended the construction of the first locomotive ever made in America. That historic engine is owned by the Baldwin today, and is an exhibit of national interest. It was Lawson who rode on his locomotive on its first trip, which was to Germantown, Pa. Afterward

he went to Petersburg, Va., where he worked several years as engineer on the Petersburg and Roanoke river railway.

The next chapter of his life began when he went to Louisiana. It was here that he married Miss Emily

Speed, who, with the three children that were born to him, all died before him. It was while in Louisiana that he became interested in steamboating. This was the vocation which held him till the end of his activities.

For over fifty years he operated on the Mississippi and its tributaries, making his home at Paducah, Kentucky.

"By the time the war opened, he had acquired a considerable fortune, which was in the form of seven steamboats. These he promptly gave to the Confederate government. They were lying in the Yazoo river at the time of the siege of Vicksburg, and he held them as the apple of his eye, feeling that they must be captured and sent to the north and watched them burn.

Later he built and fitted out the gun boat Gen. Polk which met the same fate, and in the same way, that had fallen to the enemy.

Having nothing more to offer to the lost cause, he gave his services. Enlisting in the Third Kentucky infantry, he served through the war.

At the close of the war, he re-entered the vocation of following the river, repossessing his lost fortune to a considerable extent. He spent most of his time at that period on the Cumberland river, living at Paducah,

where his wife died October 18, 1891.

Under President Cleveland's first term he was appointed engineer of the federal building of Paducah,

which was the only public position he ever sought or held. In 1893 the management of the Columbian exposition sent three delegations to him,

urging him to visit the World's fair at his guest. But Uncle Jack, as he had come to be known, could not be prevailed to go.

His health had been failing for some time, but he was able to start on his usual walk yesterday morning,

when he was stricken with heart failure on the street near his home, closing a life which, for varied adventure, sturdy usefulness and historic incident, had rarely been equaled in the lives of common men. Captain

Lawson, has climbed up to the high side of the years before he found the obituary. He had been engineer and river man nearly a century before night-fall found him in the last port awaiting a landing that is as fast as any thing we know and a harbor that is eternal and secure. In the past years of his life the old gentleman might himself have been likened to an ancient craft idly living in a bird-haunted bay, bearing the scars of many a voyage and strange trophies of distant voyages, and tales of wild winds and rocky shores. But those who knew him have awakened to the sudden knowledge that a strange title with a power beyond our ken has moved onward, and that he has drifted to unknown seas.

SLAPPED HER.

AND THE QUEEN OF SERBIA

TRIED TO KILL HERSELF.

Vienna, Nov. 22.—An official

Serbian statement declares there is absolutely no foundation in the reports that Queen Draga has been shot at or that she has committed suicide.

London, Nov. 22.—A special dispatch from Budapest says a newspaper there asserts that Queen Draga

and King Alexander, of Serbia, recently quarreled and the king slapped

the queen's face. The latter thereupon drank poison, but her life was saved

by physicians.

Observations

...at Random

A good joke is told at the expense of Mayor James Lang, who went hunting a few days ago. There was to have been a meeting of the board of directors of the Commercial club that evening to elect officers, and when it was learned late in the day that all the directors could not attend the secretary in notifying them that the meeting had been postponed failed to find Mayor Lang, because he was out in the bushes hunting.

When the mayor returned home and satisfied his hunger, he thought of the meeting, and hastening to the city hall, had Lookup Keeper Menifee build a fire in the council chamber and light up, expecting the crowd. He then shut himself in his office and patiently spent several hours waiting for the other directors to materialize, which they failed to do.

It was not until the next morning that he learned he had all his trouble for nothing.

An advantage in sitting in the "backhead row" at the theater is that the by-play of the actors can be fully enjoyed, when one is able to tumble easily. They laugh, joke with each other, change their lines in order to make an extemporaneous hit, and have a great deal of fun, while the audience often sits back and imagines that it is all in the play.

The other night one of the comedians sprang a joke about the ownership of the ocean. He and an anarchist were holding a spirited colloquy on the stage, when the anarchist asked: "Who owns the ocean, anyhow?"

"J. Pierpont Morgan," was the ready reply, but the people did not seem to be quite on to the fact that Pierpont was supposed to own the ocean because he owns almost everything else big, and there was hardly a smile.

"They never heard of him," said the comedian with an expression of the most amazing disgust, in an aside to his companion.

The men who are seen hovering about Mayor-elect Yeiser whenever he appears on the streets, take so much interest in what he says, and laugh so heartily every time he laughs or threatens to laugh, are only a few of those who are trying to get police jobs. There are not but fifty odd applicants for these important positions.

The street car motormen who were envied in summer because they escaped the oppressive heat that no one else could elude, are now enjoying chilling breezes not quite so pleasant. They are about the only people in creation not able to get warm.

A Western Kansas editor published this notice the other day for the guidance of delinquent subscribers: "If you have frequent headaches, dizziness, fainting spells, accompanied by chills, cramps, oozes, bunions, chilblains, epilepsy and jaundice, it is a sign you are not well, but are liable to die any minute. Pay your subscription a year in advance, and thus make yourself solid for a good obituary notice."

THE RIVER NEWS.

(BY W. F. LAMSON, REPORTER.)

Observations taken at 7 a. m. River 1.6 on the gauge, a rise of 0.1 in last 24 hours. Wind south, a light breeze. Weather raining and warmer. Rainfall in last 24 hours, 0.08 inches. Temperature 43. Fell, Observer.

River 1.6 and rising. Business quiet "down about the waters' edge" today.

The City of Clifton is due today from Tennessee river for St. Louis. The J. N. White left for Elizabethtown this afternoon with light business.

The Tennessee arrived from Tennessee river this morning with a very good trip.

The J. B. Richardson departed for Cairo on schedule time this morning with fair business.

The Rob Dudley is the mail and express light draught packet leaving here this afternoon for Evansville.

The City of Carrollville is due this afternoon from Golconda and leaves on return trip tomorrow at 9 a. m.

Prospects good for general rains throughout the Ohio, Tennessee and Cumberland valleys from reports at the head of navigation, in the mountain sections.

Mrs. Robert Scott, of this city, leaves tomorrow morning for St. Louis to accompany Miss Mattie Martin and Mrs. Robert Scott of Minneapolis, Minn., as far as St. Louis. Mrs. Scott and Miss Martin have spent a few weeks very pleasantly here as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott, and also made many friends during their visit.

The remains of Captain Jack Lawson who died suddenly last Wednesday evening at St. Louis, arrived this morning and will be buried in Mt. Keston cemetery tomorrow. Capt.

Lawson was the oldest steamboat man living. He came to Paducah in the early forties and during his long-lived steamboat career amassed a little fortune. His funeral will no doubt be largely attended especially by the river fraternity here.

There are a great many who do not know that Captain Wm. Rollins the well known pilot is now the oldest resident of Paducah and McCracken county, not the oldest in years, but has resided in the county and city longer than any other living person.

He is now in his 78th year, was born in this county about six miles from the city and has been a resident of Paducah for more than sixty years having moved from the country to town when about fifteen years of age.

The John K. Speed left New Orleans last Sunday for Cincinnati. She is due here next Sunday, but will likely lay over at Cairo as there is not sufficient water to let her over the chain with the trip she has on board.

The outlook for a good boating season of water looks quite favorable at present.

—One of the principal events of the coming season at The Kentucky will undoubtedly be the advent of "Quo Vadis" on Monday evening. This is the original production by F. C. Whitney and Edwin Knowles, and attended as it will be with all the grand scenery, beautiful costumes, bewitching music and superb acting and mechanical effects which has placed "Quo Vadis" in the very front of the great successes of the day.

This is the original production, the same for which Mr. Whitney paid fifty thousand dollars in London, England, and where it enjoyed an almost unprecedented run of two years, and which has had a "record-breaker" following in New York, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia and other large American cities. "Quo Vadis" is a play that interests all classes. It is preeminently the strongest dramatic story that has ever been told in theatrical form. Fifty people are employed in this great series of stage pictures, the incidental music written by Julian Edwards is most appropriate and impressive in theme and tone; the costumes are from the famous Daelen; scenery painted and built by Powers of the Adelphi theatre, London; the dramatization is by Stanislaus Stange, and without doubt the best effort of his life, and the only one that met with the unqualified approval of Stanislaus, the famous critic.

NOTES OF THE RAILROADS

Field's minstrel troupe arrived in the city from Fulton on the early morning accommodation train and were taken to River and Broadway and switched onto a side track where they will remain until ready to leave the city.
